President's Message

I have been attending the Cobble Hill Fair for as long as I can remember. As a kid, it was the highlight of the year — somewhere between the livestock barns, fair food, and trying to convince my parents I absolutely needed another lemonade and mini-donuts. At nine years old, I began my 4-H career showing sheep and rabbits, and over the years I went on to become a leader, judge, convener, fair committee member, and Farmers Institute director. Apparently, once the fair gets into your blood, there is no escaping it.

So, to now serve as President of the Shawnigan Cobble Hill Farmers Institute and Agricultural Society during the 117th Annual Cobble Hill Fair is truly an honor.

I would like to sincerely thank Roger Painter and his team for the countless hours they dedicate behind the scenes to make this event happen each year. Most people see the polished fairgrounds, the displays, and the activities. What they do not see are the meetings, planning, repairs, organizing, lifting, moving, fixing, and occasional head scratching that happens long before the gates open. Without their dedication, there simply would not be a fair.

To all the exhibitors, conveners, judges, and volunteers — thank you. Whether you are growing it, baking it, building it, raising it, sewing it, preserving it, or hauling it into the grounds at an hour most reasonable people are still asleep, I know firsthand the work that goes into preparing for the fair. Your efforts are what keep the roots and traditions of this event alive, and we are grateful you continue to share your talents and knowledge with the community.

To our sponsors, thank you for your continued support. Events like this do not happen without businesses and individuals willing to dig into their pockets to help keep community traditions alive. We truly appreciate your contributions and hope the fair continues to provide value back to both the community and your businesses.

And finally, to the community — thank you. To those who have attended the fair for decades, those bringing children for the very first time, and even those who mainly come for the food trucks and somehow leave with a petting-zoo selfie, you are the reason this fair matters. The Cobble Hill Fair is about more than exhibits and ribbons. It is about community, memories, agriculture, and traditions that continue to connect generations.

We look forward to seeing all of you at the Fair — exploring the exhibits, cheering in the barns, enjoying some classic fair food, getting your face painted, or maybe even petting a cow for the first time. Those are the memories I remember most from growing up around the Fair, and we hope this year's Fair creates a few more for all of you.

On behalf of the Shawnigan Cobble Hill Farmers Institute and Agricultural Society, welcome to the 117th Annual Cobble Hill Fair. We are glad you are here.

Roy Davies

 See you there!

From Mike Wilson: CVRD Director, Area C, Cobble Hill
Hello All,

With every passing year, the pleasure and honor I feel in writing this short note of welcome to the Cobble Hill Fair gets greater and greater. 2026 will be the 117th and this wonderful community event always attracted visitors from all over our beautiful Island. .

As you may know, the Cenotaph area has been modified with new lighting so that the central point is always bathed in low light during darkness throughout the year. The power for these lights was installed and paid for by the Farmers Institute, just another example of the great work that they do! We also installed two new flagstuffs so that the Canadian, BC and Legion flags could all be flown at the same time. Remembrance Day in the village centered around the Cenotaph is always attended by over 1,000 people, old and young, service personnel and organizations.

Work has commenced on construction of the permanent band stage in the park area so that other community events, such as Music In The Park can be held on a much-improved facility. Once again, the Farmers Institute and many other local businesses and organizations stepped up with donations and materials. A huge thank you to all those who have helped.

Floral Art divisions are judged on artistic merit and quality of plant material. Let your imagination be your guide, but your entry must convey a message to the viewer. Maximum size of each exhibit is different and the size is stated next to the entry description. The size given is the overall size of arrangement. A DESIGN may include fresh cut, dried, weathered and/or treated plant materials unless otherwise specified. Artificial plant materials such as silk flowers are not acceptable. Accessories like candles, stones, ribbons and figurines are allowed unless otherwise specified

Tips for Exhibitors

- Remember this is a flower design category. Make your flowers the outstanding feature of your entry
- Use only the best flowers for show. Flowers and leaves that have been nibbled by bugs or damaged by weather are not good enough for show
- Flowers need water! Make sure all flowers you use in an arrangement are in clean water or in water soaked floral foam meant for flower arranging
- Measure up! Make sure to measure flower designs with stated size restrictions
- Ask advice. Not sure how to make a design? Ask some knowledgeable adults for tips and help, but then you must do it yourself
- Practice! Do not wait until the day before the Fair to try your first flower design. Make some for home and see how they turn out. Learn from your mistakes then make your Fair entry
- Be on time. Late arrivals at the hall may be turned away so get there early

Volunteers – the life blood of a community

Volunteers are the backbone of every community organization. Without a solid foundation of volunteers every community group would struggle to survive.

Volunteers are remarkable individuals. They give freely of their time, energy and skills to support a community group or organization. They do so willingly with the intention of supporting a specific cause or improving the community they live in.

Over the years, the Farmers Institute has been exceptionally fortunate in attracting some stalwart individuals who help year after year and in a few instances for decades.

When individuals give of themselves in a way their service distinguishes them to the Farmers Institute, their value is sometimes recognized with a life membership. This is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a member by the organization. Pictures and a brief description of those individuals whom have been given life memberships are displayed in the dining room of the Cobble Hill Hall.

This past year the Farmers Institute lost one of our very valued life members: Nellie Poelman who will be greatly missed by the organization.

Nellie Poelman giving her greetings as she opens the Cobble Hill Fair.

Nellie first exhibited at the Cobble Hill Fair in 1962.

Perhaps it was her first-place win for the cucumbers that helped her decide the Farmers Institute would be a good place to focus her volunteer efforts over the next half century and more, but she certainly became a powerhouse!

Nellie and her husband Jannes were well known local dairy farmers in the area. After 1962, they never failed to bring their prize-winning cows along with some of the new born calves to show and explain the dairy industry to the children at every Fair.

Over the years Nellie used her skills to create curtains and tablecloths for the hall. She fed hundreds of other volunteers and for many years she took on the role as secretary of the Farmers Institute.

She often said her best years for volunteering were in the 1980s and 1990s when she was at her strongest. During those years the hall basement and stage were done. The kitchen and dining room were overhauled and the hall was made handicapped accessible all of which Nellie was instrumental in helping accomplish.

Over the decades, Nellie exhibited and won countless awards for her needlework, sewing and domestic science. She often recalled the joy of getting ready for the Fair and how the camaraderie among the members “shone through many hard times.” Nellie received the 1993 President’s Award for volunteer of the year.

She was an outstanding individual and she will be missed by all who knew her!

From the crackling campfires under to exploring new places hand in hand, every moment is an opportunity to bond and create cherished experiences together. It's a life filled with laughter, adventure, and the joy of being fully present with loved ones. Whether you're roasting marshmallows, sharing stories by the campfire, or simply enjoying the beauty of nature, the RV lifestyle brings families closer, making each journey an extraordinary chapter in the story of togetherness.

4-H SECTION

The Shawnigan Cobble Hill Farmers Institute is delighted to help sponsor 4-H in our community by providing free meeting space for their many programs and activities.

Young people who are involved in 4-H have an opportunity to learn how to become productive, self-assured adults. They can make their community and country a better place. This ability is fostered through project and program work, experiences with their 4-H club members and leaders and their participation in district, regional and even provincial programs.

The goal of 4-H is youth development. The objectives of 4-H clubs are knowledge, leadership, citizenship and personal development. 4-H is an organization dedicated to young people. The purpose of the 4-H program is to prepare girls and boys for their future as adults. 4-H stands for head, heart, hands and health.

The 4-H Pledge:

My HEAD to clearer thinking,
My HEART to greater loyalty,
My HANDS to larger service,
My HEALTH to better living,

For my club, my community,
my country and my world.

The philosophy of the 4-H program

THIS IS US

The Shawnigan Farmers' Institute was incorporated by the province on November 3, 1914 under the Agricultural Associations Act. Today the organization is known as the Shawnigan Cobble Hill Farmers Institute and Agricultural Society (Farmers Institute) and it remains a Society registered under the Farmers and Women's Institute Act where it is required to report annually to the Ministry of Agriculture.

The various amenities owned by the Farmers Institute are far more than what is viewed as a traditional or typical "recreation centre." We are a community centre: one of the few remaining structures built by and for the community a century or more ago and still owned and operated entirely by community volunteers.

Membership

The Farmers Institute is an organization run wholly by volunteers. It has an open membership, which currently stands at around 90. We are a transparent organization and invite everyone to join and participate in our activities. Remember, you don't have to be a farmer to join the Farmers Institute!

Membership in the Farmers Institute is $10 annually for which you will be invited to help clean the grounds and barn, prepare for the Fair, help stage various functions like Seedy Saturday, the Easter Egg Hunt, the Spring and Christmas Concerts, Halloween, Remembrance Day and a wide variety of other activities.

Our Holdings

The Farmers Institute is a community driven entity. It owns, operates and maintains the Cobble Hill Hall, the Youth Hall and the Stu Armour Hall. It also owns a variety of animal structures located on the fairgrounds: the Baird Barn, the Poultry Barn, the Turkey Barn, the Sheep Barn and the Donkey Barn. All of these amenities sit on approximately 6 acres of land situated in the heart of the Cobble Hill Village. Depending upon how you look at it, the Farmers Institute's holdings are either a wonderfully green rural amenity within the Village core or these lands hinder growth, development and a transition from rural life.

Funding

Through a referendum held in 1985, the taxpayers of Cobble Hill voted by more than 70 per cent to provide an annual grant to the Farmers Institute. As a consequence of that referendum, the Farmers Institute receives approximately $22,000 annually from the taxpayers in Cobble Hill through the CVRD. These funds cover the Farmers Institute's annual insurance policy. The remainder of the funds are needed to meet the Farmers Institute's annual budget of approximately $132,000 which are raised by renting the facilities to regular user groups or for events like weddings, Celebrations of Life, private parties and other activities. The Farmers Institute also raises funds to meet its budget through the various activities it stages with the Cobble Hill Fair and selling its very popular beef and chicken pot pies along with other fundraising events.

Community Services and Events

Some of the community services provided either through a donation of space or as a Farmers Institute run event include sponsoring 8 local 4-H Clubs by providing free meeting space. This sponsorship benefits young people in our community as 4-H emphasizes agricultural education and community responsibility.

The Farmers Institute also sponsors the South Cowichan Seniors Luncheons by providing free space. This group now serves approximately 120 seniors a hot lunch on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. We also hosted Seedy Saturday on the second Saturday in March. Over the past two years, the event has expanded to include the Stu Armour Hall. Seedy Saturday is a free to the public event, and it is usually attended by more than 2,000 enthusiastic gardeners as there are a wide variety of vendors on hand during this first harbinger spring.

THIS IS US

The best Easter Egg Hunt in the Cowichan Valley is hosted by the Farmers Institute and sponsored by Bill and Dee Motherwell formally of South Cowichan Storage. More than 100 youngsters attend this event. We also provide a bonfire and Halloween goodies free of charge to between 300 and 400 children and adults on the spookiest night of the year. In support of the Legion, we host the Remembrance Day Services in the hall and provide free space and support for the Spring and Christmas Variety Shows. All proceeds from these two variety shows go to the CMS Food Bank.

Giving Back

Because of their benefit to the community, we also sponsor AA, TOPS, Dog Obedience Classes and a variety of other activities by providing rental space for a reduced rate. All Candidates Meetings and other events important to the community are usually staged for free. From time to time there are other organizations or issues that come along that the Farmers Institute sponsors by donating meeting space but the above provides a glimpse at the annual activities we have supported for years.

The Cobble Hill Fair

Saturday, August 22nd marks the 117th Cobble Hill Fair, which again is our biggest fundraiser of the year. The Fair will be visited by about 6 thousand people and those attending will catch glimpses of our past that were so eloquently detailed in a 1909 Victoria Daily Colonist article about the first Cobble Hill Fair. Our Fair retains the atmosphere of an old fashioned country Fair and it provides a wonderful venue for people from all walks of life to appreciate both our rural roots and the continued importance of agriculture and the agriculture industry in our community. The Fair also highlights our community and supports local businesses. Funds raised from the Fair support the various programs supported by the Farmers Institute including 4-H and the very popular Seniors Lunch program.

Knowledge Sharing

The Farmers Institute remains instrumental in securing and disseminating information pertinent to our community. Topics include, but are not limited to, speakers who share their expertise on diverse agriculturally oriented subjects from groundwater monitoring and protection, to pruning demonstrations, to the importance of dam safety, to the raising of specialty crops and to the innovations surrounding udder health in animals.

The Farmers Institute was originally founded by farmers for the benefit of farmers. Over time the organization has evolved along with the community it serves. Members come from all walks of life and share the common connection of preserving and sharing our agricultural past and present while working toward maintaining this strong bond in the future.

We are able to do this because ours is a volunteer organization run by people who are passionate about the community in which they live. For more information contact secretary@farmersinstitute.ca

Thank You to Our Sponsors!

The Cobble Hill Fair would not be possible without the many generous sponsors, community partners, donors and volunteers who contribute to this event. There are too many to list them all and some want to remain anonymous, but we sincerely appreciate all of the support offered to this terrific community event!

Please support the local businesses that continue to support this wonderful community event. They not only help the Farmers Institute but, in turn, the Farmers Institute is able to support other organizations in our community like the very popular South Cowichan Seniors Luncheons as well as various 4-H groups in our community. They also provide the much needed local jobs and contribute to our local economy.
We thank them for their support!
